

Language in Ethnicity

A View of Basic Ecological Relations

by
Harald Haarmann

Mouton de Gruyter
Berlin • New York • Amsterdam

Table of Contents

Preface.VII

1. Language and ethnicity in a network of ecological relations . 1

2. The role of language in processes of ethnic fusion and fission . 37

3. Language planning, prestige planning, and the limits of planning activities.83

4. Bilingual profiles and changing bilingual patterns — an approach to formalize bilingual identity.119

5. The adoption of foreign cultural patterns as reflected in massive contact languages.155

6. The use of foreign languages as symbols of prestige in Japan — problems of ethnic identity in modern Japanese society 209

7. Language in ethnicity: conclusions and perspectives. 257

Bibliography.267

Subject Index.277

Index of Ethnic Groups, Languages and Countries. 281
(Administrative Territories)

Index of Names. 286